

The White Gallery

This beautiful Lancashire-based boutique is located in the heart of Ramsbottom.

At The White Gallery it's all about The Dress, and we believe it carries a responsibility all of its own which is why we emphasise the importance of one to one appointments.

Infusing you with confidence, complementing your style and expressing your personality; it has to do the job that no dress has ever done before...making you feel like you are the most beautiful woman to have ever walked this earth.

We believe the pursuit should be one of the most memorable experiences, prior to the actual day itself. Whatever your budget, style or theme, choosing your dress should be relaxed, exciting and magical; it should leave you walking on air and feeling completely indulged.

Your dress is the dress of all dresses, the crème de la crème, what dreams are made of and of course the centerpiece of photos that will live on forever; at The White Gallery we know, like the groom, it's got to be The One.
