

Automatic is an independent bar and restaurant based in Bury's theatre and arts centre The Met, serving the people of Bury all day.

The perfect place to meet friends, eat great food, drink great coffee, do business, enjoy a cocktail or few, or a pint of real ale.

We are part of Hollinworth & Price, a family of independent food and drink companies established by Lee Hollinworth & Lottie Price.

H&P own and run a number of outlets in Manchester & Bury, including bars & restaurants for arts centres & theatres as well as our own craft brewery. We also manage festival bars and supply beers to outlets across the North West. Automatic has been at The Met since 2002.

Hollinworth & Price has built a reputation delivering a heart-warmingly different approach to food and drink. Having spent 30 years building businesses – both (quite literally) from the ground up and by bringing our distinctive twist to several successful collaborations with arts venues – we've built up a unique team of experts.

Try our 'Malt' bar, with an extensive menu of over 100 whiskies, it's a great spot for a pre-or-post-gig tittle or two.

At certain times we can get very busy. For pre-theatre dining, if possible, please allow yourself two hours to dine with us. Our online reservation system will only allow you to make reservations for a maximum of 6 persons. Please call us (0161 763 9399) if you would like to make a reservation greater than this. Our MAXIMUM party size for the restaurant is strictly 20 persons.

Open 7 days from 10am until late
