

Located on the outskirts of Ramsbottom, in the village of Edenfield, this delightful Gastro Pub delivers modern British cuisine, with all the traditional elements re-imagined, welcoming all, including walkers, dogs and their well-behaved owners.

Since this delightful place is first and foremost the quintessential English inn, you can of course visit us for a pint, or sample our extensive gin collection. You'll soon find out that we take great pride in the way we serve our drinks here at The Coach in Edenfield, with a range of cask ales.

It's the perfect place in which to socialise and relax with friends and family. Warm, comfortable and welcoming. The menu mixes up the traditional and the slightly more progressive with dishes of real ambition – served by a young and attentive team. A delightful dining experience.
