

Munro-Greenhalgh has its roots as far back as 1926. Even in this new electronic era our values remain the same as they have always have been – to try our hardest for our clients.

First and foremost you need to understand that we work for you – not the Insurers. Our objectives for any client are:

- To help you identify areas of 'risk' to you and your business.
- To provide advice on measures that may help you reduce those 'risks' and where appropriate to arrange a suitable Insurance policy (with a reputable insurer) at the best possible price.
- Finally, and most important – should an accident or loss occur to be there by your side to ensure that claims are dealt with as efficiently as possible.

Commercial Insurance

Businesses require insurance protection tailored to meet their individual needs. The services of a professional Insurance Broker are essential in order to negotiate with insurers to obtain the right package at a competitive premium.

We specialise in arranging insurances for businesses ranging from individual retail shops to the larger companies, undertaking work throughout the world.

Personal Insurance

Getting expert advice does not cost you more. Like comparison sites, we get paid commission by the insurance provider for selling their products. However, we have specialist knowledge and expertise and can give you individual advice on the products that best suit your needs.

Claim Service

The real test of an Insurance policy is discovered when a claim arises. It is then that you truly find out whether your Insurance arrangements really cater for their needs. It is at this point that you discover the value of a good Insurance Broker.

We recognise just how stressful and traumatic claims can be, and we understand the importance of providing an outstanding claims service. During these difficult times we have the opportunity to show our clients exactly how good our service can be.

Here at Munro Greenhalgh Limited we take your privacy seriously and will only use your personal information to administer your account.
